JOIN THE #4HI MOVEMENT

At the Chamber, we advocate for a climate where all entrepreneurs and local businesses can thrive. Our power has always been rooted in our members and our ability to act as a community convener and connector. Today, we need those connections more than ever.

That’s why in August, we launched our #4HI campaign, which will propose solutions to some of our most pressing challenges facing Hawaii’s Economy, Education, Environment and Entrepreneurship. These four E’s will guide our work and our vision for Hawaii’s future.

We convened top experts on each of these issues to form committees, chaired by Chamber board members.

These committees will shape the Chamber’s legislative agenda, and make real inroads on solving issues that price both Hawaii businesses and families out of our state.

We envision a future in which entrepreneurs can pursue their dreams, innovation leads our fight against climate change and students have access to high-quality education that prepares them for meaningful, well-paying careers here at home. Achieving these goals won’t be easy, but they are necessary to ensure that future generations have access to the same opportunity that allowed so many of us to grow roots in Hawaii.

We hope you’ll join us in this movement for Hawaii’s future. Learn more about our #4HI campaign during 2020 Chamber Week, January 13 to 17. Sign up at www.cochawaii.org.

Welcome New Members
- 6 Pillars Marketing
- Fisher Hawaii
- Oahu Workforce Development Board
- Tag Aloha Co.
- The Initiatives Group

Welcome New Young Professionals
- Darren Agena
  Morgan Stanley
- Poki’i Balaz
  KKF
- Lana Barrett
  SSFM International, Inc.
- Liz Cawrey
  Kawananaka Schools
- Kaja Franks
  American Heart Association
- Loyal Galon
  Hawaii State Federal Credit Union
- Ashley Perkins
  Hawaiian Telcom
- Sherry Mae Ravago
  Where Forbes Hawaii
- Cassey Rickets
  Central Pacific Bank
- Bradley Tagupa
  Central Pacific Bank
- Jacquelyn Troller
  Quantus LLC
- Matthew Uyeno
  Empowered Connection
- Keoni Williams
  Hawaii State Legislature
- Kaile Yogi
  Bank of Hawaii

UPCOMING EVENTS

CHAMBER EVENTS
November 19 - Communicating with Your Customers
November 21 - Young Professionals, Professional Development Class
December 3 - FocusOn 2020 Tax Savings Solutions for Business Owners
December 3 - Business After Hours at Neiman Marcus
December 6 - Young Professionals Holiday Party

For more information on all events or to join the Chamber, visit cochawaii.org or call (808) 545-4300.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

“Benefited from being a Chamber member? Absolutely! Membership has allowed us to actualize important face-to-face meetings with our new clients and partners, and broaden our marketing scope, generating immediate profitable business, all within the first 30 days of membership. The Chamber’s resources were a phone call and email away and, in most cases, a quick chat with the staff at a networking event led to assistance and a point in the right direction. We are truly grateful!”

On left: Marvin Ventura, Owner, and Hanson Nguyen, Partner, of Hawaii Events Unlimited

Ask the Expert

Q: How can I instill a culture of giving back to the community within my company?
A: Utilize your employees’ skill sets by giving back to the community in ways that are a win-win for all parties involved. At Layton, we partnered with Pearl City High School’s Engineering Academy where our employees volunteered their time to talk with students about the different jobs in the local engineering industry and what kind of classes they should take in order to get there. Volunteering your time can be just as valuable as donating money and can also provide a rewarding experience for your employees as they utilize their expertise for the good of the community.

Q: What can my company do to maintain long-term customer relationships?
A: Don’t doubt the power of predictability. A no-surprises approach will help you earn the trust of your customers as a reliable provider of consistent quality. Layton strives to be a steady partner who delivers well-planned, safe, timely, high-quality developments. We work closely with our clients to plan, manage and execute projects from start to finish and we pride ourselves on delivering predictable outcomes by jointly setting expectations with our clients, which paves the way to successful long-term relationships.