The C-SPAN Bus has been traveling the country for the last 24 years in partnership with cable and satellite providers to visit schools and attend community events. Through interactive tools and C-SPAN representatives, visitors to the Bus can learn about C-SPAN's unique non-commercial, editorially-balanced, non-biased coverage of public affairs and political events and Spectrum's commitment to funding C-SPAN's operations.

During your visit, you will have the opportunity to speak with constituents, including students and teachers, about your experience in public office. In addition, you can participate in C-SPAN's "Voices from the States" – an opportunity for you to share viewpoints on state issues and what you think Washington leaders should do to address local concerns. These 45-60 second video responses will be posted on Twitter, and select ones will air on C-SPAN.

To see the Bus in action, click here: C-SPAN Bus, and follow us on Twitter, @cspanbus.

The new high-tech, interactive C-SPAN Bus includes:

- Access to an exclusive interactive experience available on 11 large-screen tablets featuring C-SPAN programming and myriad of political and educational resources
- A smart TV and classroom area for conversations with students and teachers
- A high-definition TV production studio for taped and live programming
- A 360-degree video station featuring C-SPAN's unfiltered coverage of high-profile events and insightful, behind-the-scenes tours of U.S. landmarks
- A D.C.-themed selfie station where visitors can share their Bus experience through social media

Note: These are community events and won't include any on-air promotion unless previously approved by the film office.
